Long isolated and impoverished, Andorra achieved considerable prosperity through its tourist industry after World War II. Andorra also has duty free prices in tobacco. Some of the larger shops seem to stock a lot of brand label clothing. Don't miss out on the Via Moda Group.... especially during sales. here are loads of ski gear shops. The last one, on October 13th, was confirmed by a miracle witnessed by 60,000 people known in the catholic world as "the day the sun danced". Return to the hotel, dinner and overnight in Fatima.

The cathedral is flanked by two square towers, each supported with two buttresses and crowned with a cupola. The façade lacks decoration and is rather architecturally heterogeneous. It shows a Baroque porch and a beautiful Romanesque rose window under a crenellated arch, giving the impression of a fortified church.

Day 04: Santiago de Compostela

Breakfast in the hotel. After this, drive to Santiago Today we are going to spend the day in Santiago de Compostela - capital of the autonomous community of Galicia in northwestern Spain. In the beginning of the 9th century, a hermit called Pelagius saw a mysterious light shining over a Roman tomb forgotten in the middle of a forest. Very soon, the incredible news spread all over the Christian world: the tomb of St. James the Greater, the beloved apostle of Jesus Christ, had been discovered in a far site near the Finis Terrae, the end of the known Earth, in the northwest of Iberian Peninsula. A few years later, this site became a famous pilgrimage town, one of the most important of Christianity. Pilgrims came from all over Europe following the Camino de Santiago to reach the city born around the Holy Tomb, exercising a great influence on the surrounding area. This is evidenced in the small towns, churches, hospitals, and monasteries that were built near the Camino to attend to the thousands of pilgrims who came to visit the tomb.

Day 05: Santiago de Compostela

Breakfast in the hotel, visit finisterre. Finisterre is situated mid-way between the "Rias Altas" and "Rias Baixas" (upper and lower bays of Galicia) and is approximately one hour from La Coruna city and a similar driving duration from Santiago de Compostela. Both routes are scenic and take you through the Sierra de Santiago. If you drive to the top of the mountains shadowing the holiday town Muros (to the south), the Cape of Finisterre can be seen in the distance on a clear day. Return to Santiago, dinner and overnight.

Day 06: Santiago de Compostela – Braga – Lisbon

Breakfast in the hotel and check out. Departure to Braga situated in the northwestern Portuguese district of Braga, in the historical and cultural Minho Province. The city was the European Youth Capital in 2012. Braga is a lively city, one of the oldest in the country, and is teeming with young people who study at its universities. Built more than 2,000 years ago, "Bracara Augusta" was, as the name indicates, founded by Augustus. It was located on one of the main Roman roads in the Iberian Peninsula, since it was the administrative seat of the Empire, and later given the status of capital of the Roman province of Gallaecia, present-day Galicia, by Emperor Caracalla. The Braga Diocese is the oldest in Portugal and, in the Middle Ages, the city even competed with Santiago de Compostela in power and importance. One of the Caminos de Santiago passed through here, when this pilgrimage cult grew with the Christian reconquest and the foundation of Portugal. We will visit The Cathedral of Braga (Portuguese: Sé de Braga) is one of the most important monuments in the city of Braga. Due to its long history and artistic significance it is also one of the most important buildings in the country.

Day 07 Lisbon

Breakfast in the hotel. Visit the main interesting places in Lisbon, the Jerónimos Monastery replaced the church formerly existing in the same place, which was dedicated to Santa Maria de Belém and where the monks of the military-religious Order of Christ provided assistance to seafarers in transit. The harbour of Praia do Restelo was an advantageous spot for mariners, with a safe anchorage and protection from the winds, sought after by ships entering the mouth of the Tagus. The existing structure was inaugurated on the orders of Manuel I (1469-1521) at the courts of Montemor o Velho in 1495, as a final resting-place for members of the House of Aviz, in his belief that an Iberian dynastic kingdom would rule after his death. In 1496, King Manuel petitioned the Holy See for permission to construct a monastery at the site.
